

BIOSECURITY IS CRITICAL!

Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza (Bird Flu) has been detected in Florida and multiple states.

Poultry owners (large scale and small backyard flocks) need to:

- Practice good biosecurity.
- Wash your hands before and after encountering poultry.
- Monitor your flock's health.
- Keep visitors to a minimum.
- Provide disposable boot covers and/or disinfectant footbaths for anyone having contact with your flock.
- REPORT SICK BIRDS:
Call the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services at (850) 410-0900, after hours at (800) 342-5869 or by email at RAD@FDACS.GOV
- Questions about HPAI? Call (850) 410-0900 or email at poultryprograms@FDACS.gov

For more information on biosecurity, scan the QR code.

