Jennings State Forest

CHECKLIST OF BIRDS

Brown-headed
Nuthatch

Jennings State Forest hosts a variety of bird species with habitats that are dispersed throughout the forest in many types of natural communities. In the pine flatwoods surrounding the kiosk, at the trailhead on Live Oak Lane, you can see woodpeckers and brown-headed nuthatches. Bachman’s sparrows, kestrels and bluebirds can be found along the power lines that run throughout the Old Jennings Tract. A bird blind with feeders is located on a spur trail off of the Fire & Water Nature Trail. The feeders attract up to 35 species of birds throughout the year. Wading birds can be observed in the dome swamps and ponds visible from the power line observation tower.

Maps of Jennings State Forest are available at the kiosk on Live Oak Lane.
