Map of the State of Florida showing the location of the John M. Bethea State Forest. The map is titled "John M. Bethea State Forest" and "Facilities & Recreation". It shows the forest's location in the northwestern part of the state, near the Georgia border. The map includes a scale bar (0 to 1.4 miles) and a north arrow. The legend identifies various facilities and features within the forest, including the Office & Facilities Complex, Maple Set, and various parking areas. The map also shows the location of the forest relative to the state of Georgia and the city of Baker.

In response to your inquiry of May 22, 2014 the Florida Master Site File lists twenty previously recorded archaeological sites, one resource group, and one standing structure found within the John M. Bethea State Forest located in Baker County.

When interpreting the results of our search, please consider the following information:

- This search area may contain unrecorded archaeological sites, historical structures or other resources even if previously surveyed for cultural resources.
- Because vandalism and looting are common at Florida sites, we ask that you limit the distribution of location information on archaeological sites.
- While many of our records document historically significant resources, the documentation of a resource at the Florida Master Site File does not necessarily mean the resource is historically significant.
- Federal, state and local laws require formal environmental review for most projects. This search DOES NOT constitute such a review. If your project falls under these laws, you should contact the Compliance and Review Section of the Division of Historical Resources at 850-245-6333.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions regarding the results of this search.

Sincerely,
